Sale Closed on Carroll

Street Project

Posted by steve in house projects

We closed our sale today on the Carroll Street, bringing this project to completion. It took us longer than we had anticipated (by about 1 month), but the end result was worth the extra time. We are really proud of the house and feel it really enhances what was already a great neighborhood. We had the fortune to get to celebrate with the new owners at the house this evening with some champagne and wished them well. We added some pictures of the interior to the project page for the Carroll Street house. Take a look if you didn't get a chance to see the inside for yourself.

We are now back in acquisition mode which can take some time for us to find the next great diamond in the rough. If you know of potential project homes, please shoot us an email with the information.
